EXHIBITION: Artist Halyna Zalotockyj in North Adelaide.

JAPANESE kimonos are given a second life under the careful hand of artist Halyna Zalotockyj.

Her exhibition of recycled Japanese fabrics is now on display at The Fabric of Life shop in North Adelaide.

Vintage kimonos from the 1920s through to the '70s have been turned into bags, cushions, lamp shades, table runners, waistcoats and even hand-stitched necklaces.

Nina and Bess: Recycled Japanese Fabrics is on display at 141 Melbourne St, until Saturday, September 10.
